ROHS Declaration

“Restriction of the use of Hazardous Substances” under Directive 2002/95/EC

In order to protect human health and the environment, the directive 2002/95/EC restricts the use of hazardous substances to reduce the harmful effects of many products on the environment.

TELETASK and ROHS.

TELETASK fits, as a manufacturer of high-end quality domotics, the “electronic” product category as described in the RoHS regulations. This means that TELETASK is committed to carrying out the RoHS directive and supplying RoHS compliant products in the EU or wherever required.

TELETASK RoHS declaration

TELETASK declares that all its products do comply to RoHS. This declaration is based on our analysis, supplier analysis or the RoHS certifications of the components used in the TELETASK products.
